Who Will You Work With?

We are FA Client Machine. We help financial advisors stand out from the crowd to attract and retain more clients with customized animated whiteboard videos that showcase what's special about their niche practice. We champion what's special about our clients and help successful advisors position themselves for even greater success.

We are a lean virtual team of experts based in San Diego, CA, but our team is global. As a Sales Rockstar, you can work from anywhere in the nation.

Our core program is a Turnkey Video System that's subscription based, which generates residual income for our sales team as well as a quick burst of cash for our Sales Reps with each sale.

The Top Three Reasons To Join The FA Client Machine Sales Team

#1. You'll Be Selling An Industry Leading Offering That Transforms The Lives

Of Businesses Owners Around the Nation.

The world is changing so quickly, and advisors need our help to transform their marketing strategies from old school methods that used to work but are frustratingly yielding less and less, to new cutting edge video marketing strategies that give them that extra edge essential to rise to the top in today's competitive environment.

This is a rare opportunity for the sales person who likes to communicate with people on the phone and make a substantial income in a new, proven product category. Video marketing is a tremendous opportunity and a hot trend for financial advisors and it's our job to help them take advantage of this new technology.

#2. You'll Have A Results-Driven, Uncapped, High Paying Job You Will Be Proud Of.

You will be paid commission on all sales generated, both from inbound and outbound calls and leads.

This position offers the best of both worlds in that you'll generate a substantial commission immediately with each sale, as well as earn uncapped residual income for as long as each sale remains our client.

Our sales strategy consists of targeting highly defined niches in the financial services world, which makes our product stand out from the crowd and receive a warm reception, even from cold contacts. It's an exciting product whose time has come, and our prospects have been waiting for our call.

Not only that – our salespeople are earning more and more every month, which means the sky's the limit when it comes to pay.

What's more, we've only begun to tap this market. Our business is growing every day – and so can your take-home pay.

#3. You'll Give Your Business & Personal Development Skills A Huge Boost, Taking Your Own Life To New Heights.

We believe that success boils down to two core factors: useful resources and hard work.

We'll give you the resources, in the form of expert training, leading edge automated technology, and targeted lists full of advisors who are ready to hear more. It's up to you to apply the hard work, to focus on ongoing improvement, and to bring dedication to your craft.
