

Video Project Manager, Flexible Hours, Work From Home

If you love wrangling extremely detailed project management systems, keeping on top of multiple client projects at the same time, emailing and calling clients, being involved with video production and digital marketing, if you have an interest in finance, and you want to be a part of a small, international company with a big future, then this might be the perfect fit for you. You will be working with a small entrepreneurial San Diego-based company making a difference in the lives of business owners in the financial services industry by working virtually with an international team, from your own home office. You must be highly organized, detail oriented, and most importantly, extremely conscientious about follow through. You'll be managing our projects with Asana, a project management software, and Infusionsoft, a CRM automation tool. You need to be comfortable with a dynamic and changing work environment since we are in growth mode; you need to be an "all purpose" person, flexible to work on a variety of types of tasks and projects. You must be a responsible self-starter who can keep your projects on track all by yourself, since your work schedule is very flexible. Lastly, you must be comfortable with using online software programs to manage the video production process. You need to have a passion for and be proficient in project management. This position does not require you to actually shoot and edit video. Rather, you'll be managing a team to create whiteboard animated videos using to our very detailed system in Asana. You'll also be working with our clients by phone on a regular basis. This is not a creative position. This is for a detailed administrative type personality who loves to run other people's systems and does not mind working through repetitive detailed tasks to do it. If details make your head hurt, do not apply for this job.

About You

You love tasks! You enjoy working with people on marketing projects revolving around video. You also love managing and helping to refine systems.

You have astounding attention to detail and never get tired on working on detailed tasks to move projects and teams forward.

It is a big plus if you have experience in financial services, since our clients are all in the financial services industries.

You do NOT thrive on being micromanaged and love to be given the freedom to excel in your job. Being your own boss and helping a small, growing organization is a dream come true for you. You are open, direct, and straightforward. You believe that honesty, awareness, and ownership are the direct routes to problem solving. You love being given a responsibility and then running with it, making sure all t's are crossed and i's are dotted, and keeping close watch on all your projects to make sure they're completed with excellence and on time. You own your job as if it was your own company.

About This Role

The Video Project Manager is an “all-purpose” person who can successfully manage all the details and administrative execution of our Turnkey Video System. This means you’ll manage the scripting, video production, compliance approval process, and YouTube uploads for client videos using our project management system, Asana. You’ll also field customer support inquiries with cheerfulness and competence.

Your tasks will fall into 4 areas:

1) Client Liaison-

You’ll be our primary point of contact for our clients through the production process. You’ll answer and respond to phone calls and emails from clients, and manage their projects within our system.

2) Video Project Manager-

You’ll manage our international team of video editors, voiceover artists, content consultants, and administrative assistants to make sure our video projects continue to march forward. You’ll use our software system, Asana, to do this.

3) Video Reviewer-

When our video editors submit the first cut of their custom whiteboard animated videos, you will review the videos to make sure they communicate the scripts' message clearly with the visual animation images the editor chose. You’ll also make sure the videos’ images are compliant for the financial services industry. You'll record any recommended edits and submit that to our editor using our system. You’ll also make sure any changes requested by client or other team members are implemented correctly in the videos, which requires high attention to detail.

4) YouTube Channel Creator-

You’ll create customized YouTube channels for our clients, upload their videos, and optimize them with keywords, playlists, etc.

Your Required Skills

- Self-starter: ready to take responsibility to make each project the best it can be. You need to be an "A Player" who treats this job as if it was your own company. We want you to lead and we trust you to run your projects independently.
- Task-oriented and outstanding attention to detail

- Loves talking with clients on the phone and managing their projects for them. You offer pleasant and prompt responses to client questions and needs.
- Ability to communicate in 2 distinct ways: 1) communicating with clients 2) keeping our team on task
- System friendly and be someone who thrives on organized systems.
- Utmost commitment to meet deadlines and feel tremendous ownership over your job.
- Enthusiastic, reliable and self sufficient.
- Even tempered / no 'attitude' / willing to help beyond a job description and do whatever it takes. You must be a flexible, "all purpose person", willing to help with a variety of needs.
- Not the inventor type. Instead you're the implementor who takes systems other invented and makes them run like a clock.

Your Nice To Have Skills (we can train you too!)

- Experience in financial services industry
- Familiarity with Asana
- Able to provide Voiceover services
- Able to script videos about financial topics for client
